ARMISTICE DAY 1936.

There will be the usual Armistice Day ceremony at the War Memorial at 11 A.M. on Wednesday the 11th November 1936. The Hon'ble the Resident will attend and will lay a wreath on the Memorial.

The Hon'ble the Resident, accompanied by the Personal Assistant, will arrive at the War Memorial at 10.57 A.M. He will alight at the entrance gate nearest to the Residency, where he will be met by the Secretary and Residency Surgeon.

The Hon'ble the Resident will be received on arrival by the Station Commander, and will walk with him to a position in front of the War Memorial. The Resident's Staff will follow, and in front of the War Memorial will take place in line behind the Resident and Station Commander.

A gun will be fired at 11 A.M. to mark the commencement of the two minutes silence, and the massed buglers will play the Last Post. A second gun will be fired two mintes later, to mark the close of the period of silence. The guards round the War Memorial will present arms, and the massed buglers will play the Reveille. The Resident and his Staff will stand at attention, but will not salute, during the two minutes silence and the playing of the Last Post and the Reveille.

After the Reveille has been played by the massed buglers, the guards round the War Memorial will stand at ease. The Hon'ble the Resident will then take his wreath from the wreath-bearer and lay it on the War Memorial. After laying his wreath he will salute the War Memorial, and his Staff will also salute. The Station Commander will then lay his wreath on the War Memorial, and after him the representatives of the various units.

The Hon'ble the Resident will then leave, being accompanied his motor car by the Station Commander and the Resident's Staff.

Undress uniform (blue) will be born.

The Personal Assistant will arrange for the Resident's wreath to be handed over at the War Memorial at 10.45 A.M. to the Station Staff Officer, who will detail a wreath-bearer to present it to the Hon'ble the Resident at the proper time during the ceremony.

Time will be taken from the clock on St. Andrew's Church.
